DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding independent claims 1 and 6, the phrase "by means of all or part of the following parameters or derivatives of these parameters" renders the claim indefinite. It is unclear what exactly is encompassed by such a limitation.

Regarding claims 2-5, they are dependent upon claim 1 and are rejected for the same reasons.

Regarding claims 6-18, the repeated use of the phrases "especially", "for example", and "possibly taking the form" render the claims indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrases are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-18 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

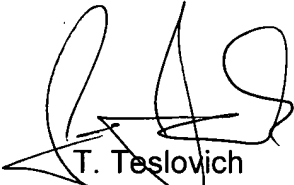

The present invention is directed towards a system and method for proving the authenticity of a witness entity and the integrity of a message associated with that entity to a corresponding controller entity. Each independent claim identifies the distinct feature of calculating commitments R , challenges d and responses R using public/private values G_i and Q_i defined according to a series of equations unique to the present invention. The closest prior art, European Patent No. 792044 A2 to Fuji Xerox Company Ltd., teaches a challenge/response authentication method which relies upon the use of an RSA signature and fails to disclose the use of the public/private values G_i and Q_i defined according to the unique series of equations disclosed in the present invention. The prior art, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above underlined limitations obvious.
